Look beyond OverDrive

- Assess other Juv/YA options like Tumblebooks

Continue monitoring Public Library Connect

- Monitor Public Library Connect feature to link student Sora (school Overdrive collections) accounts with the WPLC and local public digital libraries and its potential effect on WDL Juv and YA collections.

Update diversity audits

- Continue to run diversity audits on the collection to monitor development.

Review and Evaluate Deselection & Maintenance

Create automated deselection tools

- Work with OverDrive to help create new reporting tools to make deselection more efficient.

Evaluation

- Review and evaluate the timeline and deselection process and make changes as necessary.

Consider new formats

- Consider the potential effects of adding new collections or formats to the collection, the maintenance, and deselection of those collections, as well as the impact they will have on the Selection Committee.

Increase Buying Pool

Support high usage

- In the Patron Survey, 88% of respondents reported that they will place a holds if a title is not available. 61% they would still place a hold with a wait time of six months or more. The demand for titles is high and patrons are willing to wait.
- The majority (35%) of patrons noted that they had checked out more than 20 items from Wisconsin's Digital Library whereas the majority (65%) had checked out fewer than 5 physical books from their local public library.
- Staff also support an increase. In the Staff Survey, 48.6% responded that the collection budget was too low for demand, 41.8% responded that they didn't know and 0% responded that it was too high.

Uphold previous five-year recommendation

- Increase the Buying Pool by $66,722, approximately a 5% increase to the base amount, with no increase to the Hold Reduction amount.

*“I just got off a 10+ minute phone call with a patron where I talked them through placing their first e-book hold and setting up Libby in real time. *“We had a patron that went up North with her husband. She had access to the Wisconsin Digital Library on a device. He had brought a print book.
